With the final call at the BESMA/Paris Cycling Safety Committee's at its beginning of this year, the committee is all set to summarize its outlook and to make clear recommendations for the coming years. At the beginning of the meeting, every committee member had a chance to add their 2 cents about the safety of cyclists. During the two-hour meeting, committee members discussed and debated about bicycle safety and road safety issues. What resulted from their meeting was a 6-page overview of the two-year work and a vision for the coming years. The committee members agreed to have BESMA and the City of Paris examine the two year work and the vision together. The final summary of the meeting will be made public next week. The recommendations made during the meeting include conducting more research and giving more importance to research, giving more emphasis on childrens' safety and on fitness of road users, and even introduce a new concept: ensuring safe riding distance, both on bicycle and on the road.Candy (2017 film) Candy is a 2017 French-Canadian drama film directed by Marjane Satrapi and starring Yvan Attal and Marina Hands.
