What's New in the AutoCAD?

Auto-correct feedback with Markup Assist. Draw a line, and mark errors. Then drag your mouse along the line to point out the errors. Next, place your mouse cursor on a marked error and press the Shift+Alt+M keys to open a dialog that allows you to click OK, Undo or Cancel. (video: 2:15 min.) Faster Markup Draw: Automatic generation of entire drawings (e.g. AutoCAD table of contents) from an external PDF file. Import the PDF file into the current drawing, then click "Save as new drawing" to generate the file. (video: 1:30 min.) Rapid 1-click drawing of tables from an external PDF file, which can be an Excel spreadsheet. (video: 2:00 min.) Supports multiple drawing styles. Enhancements in Line Editor and Text Editor: New keyboard shortcut: Ctrl+Shift+M – turn on Markup Assist. (video: 2:30 min.) Table rows can be reordered, merged and copied to other tables. Text can be copied from one shape to another, and pasted in between two existing shapes. More streamlined marker window (you can delete the marked changes from the layout view or table view). Window-resizing behavior is easier to manage. Properties can be changed for multiple objects at once. Text can be rotated automatically with angle precision based on the text's font and text style. Add and edit a region name to draw and annotate a circle, line, or other shape. Enhanced split and merge capabilities. Refined and more accurate pointer behavior in the ribbon. Text Area Auto-sizing: Enhanced text display with a refined text area. You can now change the text area to any size you want, even a fraction of a millimeter. Text area can be an exact size, or you can use a predefined size. Use the up/down arrow keys to change the size of the text area, then press Enter to confirm the size. On-screen keyboard functionality now available in Text Editor. Enhanced Color Chooser: The new color chooser has a set of keys, including the keyboard equivalents of Red, Green, and Blue. Color can be selected and deselected by simply pressing the ◆
