I hope you reach an understanding of what it is: A machine model or set of models that is designed to mimic non-mechanical processes. So whereas the computer scientists and designers of an AI application in, say, image or speech recognition only seek a mathematical model of what they think is going on. While the physical end result is not always the same as this mathematical model. The shader model in video games is the next level. Similar to computer vision but the performance varies on the individual app. the result we are trying to achieve is best suited for the technology available. much like real-life artistic ability.

City News City of Gastonia Road Widening | Article Posted Jan 07, 2011 City of Gastonia Road Widening Final Phase Approved and Announced GASTONIA, N.C. — The City of Gastonia road widening project is coming down to the last phase. The City Commission on Monday approved and announced completion of the last phase of the project. Work started on the $6 million project in October 2009. During that time, crews have cleared out cross streets, extended cul-de-sac roads and widened intersections, the project. City staff have said last summer that the widening project will take up to four years to complete. They have said the work will not damage any homes or businesses. The project will be completed in two sections. The first section is the completion of Shelby Drive in both directions near the intersection with Rustic Oak Drive. The south side of Shelby will be widened from 8 lanes to 10 lanes and the north side of the road will be widened from 8 lanes to 11 lanes. The second section of the project will be completed at the intersection of Rowe Boulevard with both sides of the road being widened to 10 lanes. This project will include the completion of the residential neighborhood at the intersection of Rowe Boulevard with Beckley Drive. L e t z (p) = 3 * p .
