Gold Digger Maze is a puzzle game on iPhone in which you have to dig until you're at the end of the maze. It's very similar to go out to search for gold on the ground. You'll have to choose the right direction, and when you tap on it and jump, you'll take a move. Gold Digger Maze boasts a vibrant control system so that you can move the ball around easily. You can also rotate the whole game screen.  The achievement system is advanced as it offers users to unlock achievements, increasing levels., every take so we can iron it out. "We'll also need to use some new planes and rigs. When you're working with 110 cameras, rigging is going to take longer. It could take days for props and rigs, so we'll need to make sure we have everything booked." On the plus side, however, Denison believes it will be worth the extra time and money to have everything in place when he and Nick bring their new show to work. "It's a 10 week shoot, so we'll be filming 24 hours a day and seven days a week," Denison explains. "We'll film on location, with some set pieces in the studio, and we'll use some interviews. "Our crew is good on location. It's a big challenge, but we're pumped to get started." Most recently, Denison and Nick were co-hosts of Channel Nine's The Footy Show, with the pair having left the show after its move to its new home on the Nine Network. Denison says it was an emotional decision to walk away from Footy Show. "I've done a lot of things as a kid, and Footy Show has been my favourite since I was a young kid," he says. "But making this move was very emotional. I've got family and friends working on it, and I feel like it's a great show. "There's a lot of talent and work that goes into it. Our crews are really good, and I don't think it's ever been better. "But I needed a change, and I wanted to try something new Update 5/16/13: Clash of Clans developer Supercell has delivered a big hint as to what it'll be revealing at GDC next month. The company will be unveiling its free-to-play game lineup at the event, which kicks off on Friday and runs through Monday. One of the games, Supercell confirms, will be a full version of the hugely popular Honey, I Shrunk the Kids update. Given that the tower was an aspect of the game, its absence was already somewhat felt, and this confirms it'll be the changelog. The arena is returning, and reprising its role as a portal to the Master's Den. Clash of Clans arena runs for four weeks before disappearing for good. It will remain a lasting reminder of what could have been. — Supsy (@superspicy) May 8, 2013 Update 4/

Q: Calculate the data-attribute value of each div I want to add a data-attribute for each div (for example width and height) I tried to add data-attribute data-width and data-height, but this function is not working and it doesn't calculate the "data-attribute value of each div" I tried to do it with this code, but i can't use jquery selector in it, i need to use javascript. `$(function() { $('.data').each(function() { $(this).data('width', $(this).width()); $(this).data('height', $(this).height()); }); });` I just want to add data-attribute value of div in the each loop, so that i will have "width:200px; height:200px; border:2px solid red" in each div. A: Use the attr function for that: `$(function() { $('.data').each(function() { $(this).attr('width', $(this).width()); $(this).attr('height', $(this).height()); }); });` Note: You don't have a `$(function() {})` wrapper. It's just a matter of style. I've included it here just for readability. Lost (Philippine TV series) Lost is a television program currently airing on DZBB (c9d1549cdd

Disclaimer: this game is freeware. You must own a copy of TableTop Cricket to play this game. This is a great looking game. It has both Photo Mode and Full Screen Mode. The background and design have been well thought out and give the game that feeling that you are playing in a third world country. Upon booting up the game you must wait for awhile before you can play. I don't know if this is by design, but I have noticed that when you have the ball and you are about to hit it you just stick your hands out and hit the ball but it will not pass through the ball if it hits an opponent. You must be connected to the internet to boot this game. You may disconnect from the internet once at the main menu. After about two minutes you will be able to choose a game type. You will start off in the play headbutters match but this short match is really a training mode to learn how to play to get used to the mechanics and game. I recommend that you try to play as many matches as you can for the longest period of time. If you have any suggestions or questions about this game feel free to contact us. Thank you. What's new:

Fantasy Memories is a role-playing video game developed by Media Crest, and published by Nintendo for the Game Boy Advance. The Game Boy Advance version was released in Japan on January 26, 2005, in North America on September 2, 2005, and in Europe on October 2, 2005. Gameplay Fantasy Memories is a semi-cooperative card game that supports role-playing and can progress through story line. Players select from seven adventurers, and use monster-catching mini-cards to defeat monsters in dungeons by discarding or switching into monster-catching cards with another adventurer. Players are then judged on their card skills, making the game more competitive and deadly for some players. It can be played with four players or against computer AI. The game features many monsters. Each enemy has at least two monster types that it can perform certain actions with. For example, blue orbs are fired from monsters as projectiles, and red circles are destroyed. There are two monster types that can catch the on-screen cards of other players, and often times these monsters are blue orbs in disguise. These are useless cards to a player, and so they can only be played at a disadvantage. Plot The story centers on four players: Lord Hagon, Harold, Magi, and Yuki. Yuki is an orphan that has a dream of becoming a great wizard, but due to the disapproval and insults of his family and neighbors, he stops dreaming and settles into normal life. One day in college he comes across the three mouse brothers, Stuffy, Stupid, and Stuck. They all agree to become adventurers, and in doing so, adventure the world. As time goes on, Stuffy and Stupid get into trouble, and by a twist of fate, two new adventurers, Shy and Juuza, become roommates with Yuki to change things up, give him confidence to make his dreams a reality, and help him return to his normal life. World There are seven worlds altogether, including the aforementioned Great World. Each world holds a castle that the player will enter using green "Hero Cards", while also capturing red orbs that appear. Levels are depicted by moons, which are gradually appearing throughout each world. Basic The Basic World holds four castles, and is the only one not in a setting. In order, these castles are the Great World (Which contains the Great City), Smugglia, Bulrush, and Blackgale. The Great World
