It's Adobe Photoshop Express. That program enables you to create, modify, and edit your images in a limited number of ways, and you can download other photo editing programs for free. You can access Elements on your PC from the Web at `www.adobe.com/products/elements/`. (The download is available as a Windows program and is free for you to try.) Postmortem detection of low level infections with Haemophilus parasuis in Japanese quails (Coturnix coturnix japonica). A total of 216 quails from 54 flocks were divided into 3 groups at pre-mortem. Group 1 (n=96) received no prophylactic treatment, group 2 (n=55) was given a single parenteral treatment with an inactivated vaccine, and group 3 (n=55) received a single parenteral treatment with a live vaccine. The birds were held in a natural light environment in separate cages, and killed 6 days postmortem for assessment of gross lesions and postmortem bacteriological examination. Prevalence of Haemophilus parasuis infection in the individual flocks was 60.7% (33/54) in the 3 groups, and lesions suggestive of systemic inflammation and meningitis were observed in the infected birds. The results of bacterial examination of the tracheal mucosa and brain by using histology and PCR, showed that bacteria were detectable in the tracheal mucosa and the brain in all cases. However, the presence of bacteria in the trachea was not associated with a positive test result of bacterial culture. The most appropriate method to detect H. parasuis was therefore considered to be PCR of the brain, as it was effective and the postmortem time could be shortened.Cole said he and his coaching staff were approached by the Titans about making him the head coach, and he said he had interest in the job. "I was at home just hanging out with my family," said Cole. "When the phone rang, the first thing they said was 'I want you to be the coach.'" At that point, I've been through a lot of different things, so I was thinking, "What do I need to be a good coach? I didn't want to wait for the rest of the interview process." " Cole said he met with Titans general manager Jon Robinson. He and Robinson have known each other for "years" and had discussed joining the Titans, a relationship he said he had long envisioned. "The interview went really well," said Cole. "The Titans are a well-run organization. I know everyone in the organization, and I have respect for the people running it."
