You become an Elden Lord reborn to become the legendary hero of the Elden Ring—the person who rescues the princess of the Elden Ring. As a Tarnished noble, you undertake a journey to become an Elden Lord. In a world where a person’s body and soul are torn apart, a rumor has spread about the Elden Ring being broken. To prevent that from happening, you must gather members to create a new Elden Ring. For a year, wander from one place to another through the Lands Between, recruiting adventurers to join your team. Through your journey, you will meet a variety of characters with their own thoughts and feelings. Their thoughts and feelings intertwine to become a single whole. ABOUT ELDEN RING: The saga that took place in “The Legend of Heroes” (“Seiken Densetsu”) continues in the new Legend of Heroes game. An Elden Ring is a structure to support a collaborative bond among members through a journey through the Lands Between. ABOUT NECRONOMICON: “Necronomicon” is a new game by TYPE-MOON Inc. It is a game in which you completely control your actions and your own story, and not the story within a predetermined framework, such as a linear story. The story begins with Tarnished having a telepathic conversation with a mysterious being called “The Master” and travels further in the story as you go along. The story is not told by only one character. Rather, to tell the entire story, the story is told by the various characters of the world, and what you see and do is all the result of a collaboration between the characters that you meet and the events that you experience along the way. This game is not an action game or a role-playing game. Rather, it is a fantasy action adventure game in which the setting is a fantasy world that takes place between these two genres. It is a fantasy drama where the story is truly a collaborative work between the players and the developers. ABOUT PICKAXE GAME: This game is another collaboration between the developer, TYPE-MOON Inc. and the players. You can play the game by making your own choices, with “Pickaxe,” just as in the development and prior “Legend of Heroes” titles

Structured PvP battle map system: Players are matched in advance based on the ranking of their characters. The six players will be randomly assigned to the six slots in the battle map. Players can join the battle for a predetermined time or until it is over. 1. Fight to Damage the Enemy Forces Players must attack the enemy forces in order to damage the enemy’s bases and reduce the amount of coins in the enemy’s resource chest. Players can fight alone or with a group. 2. Battle Invite Upon completion of the battle, the host player will invite players. The invited players will also be paired in advance based on their characters’ statistics. 3. Ranking The rankings of the defeated players will be decided based on the damage they caused to the enemy. A player’s ranking will vary depending on the number of defeated players and how much damage they caused. 4. Coin Exchange The defeated players’ total number of coins will be exchanged for other coins. In the process, coins will be exchanged with the lowest coins, and the player will lose half their coins. 5. Earn Experience The defeated players will receive experience and have the chance to become a higher-level character. ▲The Prestige parameter is a bonus to the level of your character, and determines whether or not you will be a favored player when you are matched with another. ▲The level of other players will determine how many coins you have. ■ Customizable Combat features to Enjoy a Variety of Exciting Battles: A randomized combat system with various stage designs will allow for a variety of exciting battles. • Customize your Combat System There are two methods of character customizing your combat system: equipment and techniques. You can improve your character by either choosing items that will increase your stats or developing your own combat techniques. 1. Character Customizing In addition to equipment, you can select from pre-crafted techniques to boost your character’s stats. (1) You can change equipment freely. You can only equip one item at a time, and equipping items that do not enhance your stats may cause a penalty in the stats you get from equipping them. (2) You can enhance your stats through battle. By learning and evolving your techniques, you can increase the level of your stats. (3) You can select your combat techniques freely from
