there are two factions in the game, the new conglomerate and the vanu sovereignty, each with a military leader in control of an organization who leads a group of infantry or vehicles. players take a side in the fight for control over the three great continents of auraxis. the matchmaking system matches players of similar skill levels and the game does not have a level cap. the universe of planetside 2 is being shaped and defined by hundreds of thousands of players. you can create your own freaky characters, customizing them from head to toe, and fight on a huge variety of planets. the player-driven events system allows players to influence the planet and, in turn, affect the game world. planetside 2's innovative and massively multiplayer pvp action allows players to engage in combat through a series of skill-based matches, including vehicle combat, infantry combat, and team-based combat. players can team up with their friends to fight in a variety of different pvp and pve modes. planetside 2 offers a fully-fledged rpg experience. players can level up their characters, and invest skill points in each of their four main attributes. these attributes are strength, dexterity, intelligence and faith, which cover the four core pillars of the game: tech, combat, operations, and culture. these four pillars complement each other and add to the sense of progression as players gain experience, loot, rank up, and customize their character. planetside 2 features an extensive pvp and pve experience that includes player-created skirmishes, large-scale battles, survival, and cooperative modes. there are many different types of pvp and pve matches that players can choose from, such as infantry, vehicle, and team combat. players can also choose to form groups and work together as a team to win the match.
